Re: Crump Insurance v. All Risks, Ltd. & Michael McGrath

Dear Mr. Carp:

This letter is in response to your letter of today, June 23, 2008.

With regard to my reference to All Risks' response to Crump's RFP, Set Two, thank you for seeking clarification. That was in fact a typo. I did mean Request for Production No. 35. Just to be clear, Defendant will amend its response to Request for Production No. 35 as follows: Defendant has performed a reasonable and diligent search and does not have any documents responsive to this request in its possession, custody, or control.

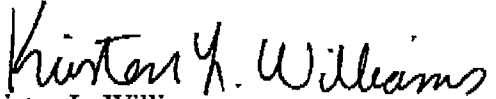

With regard to the reference to documents withheld based on the attorney-client and/or attorney work-product privileges, this was not a typo. In reviewing documents that were withheld based on privacy and/or confidentiality/proprietary reasons, I found that some of these documents also, and more strongly, fall under the attorney-client privilege. We will be providing you with a log for all documents withheld for any reason by close of business Wednesday. In the meantime, please note that the documents withheld on privacy grounds are correspondence related to those agreements.

Very truly yours,
